

Formula Student Fuel Supply 2008

Shell will be providing fuel to competing teams during the 2008 Formula Student competition.

Two fuels will be supplied:

Shell V Power

Shell will supply UK specification V power; specifications in other European locations may differ. V power is widely available at Shell's UK forecourts; the UK fuel is manufactured to the specification detailed in the product specification sheet

E85

E85 is not commercial available from Shell, the E85 fuel will be specially blended for the competition. Shell is not able to offer a supply of E85 fuel for pre event testing. Teams should make provision to source their own fuel supply prior to the competition.

E85 fuel has no fixed specification in Europe (it is designed for flexible fuel vehicles), however the fuel supplied in 2008 will be blended to the specification detailed in the product specification sheet.

The fuels provided are unleaded
