Henkel's News and Views publication contains a variety of articles including case studies, technical editorials and news relating to Loctite, Teroson and Plastic Padding products. In the latest issue, there are highly informative case studies that reveal how threadlockers and retainers have provided invaluable assistance in a diversity of industries, how cyanoacrylate instant adhesives assist in keeping streets clean and wind turbines turning and where other adhesive technologies promote helicopter safety and solutions to car conversions. In addition, there is a report on how the automotive industry in China is learning from successful adhesive applications here in the UK. There is also news of an exciting partnership with Porsche in the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup and how that will benefit all users of Henkel products, and an update on the outstanding success of The University of Hertfordshire's Formula Student build and race team.
