

Keyword: Formula Student

German win at 2008 Formula Student

Last weekends 2008 Formula Student collegiate racecar design competition resulted in overall for the German Universitat Stuttgart team which won by a comfortable points from the teams representing Delft University of Technology in Holland and UAS Graz in Austria.

The Universitat Stuttgart teams success was aided by victories in the acceleration, skid pad, sprint and endurance-economy events that go towards the final team scores.

Team Bath was the best placed UK university in fourth place overall while the new low carbon class 1A competition was won by the UKs University of Hertfordshire with its hydrogen powered car that also took the EEMS Prize for the competitions lowest carbon production car.

http://www.autoindustry.co.uk/news/16-07-08_5